(Today's exclusive dispatch by David Lawrence on the French-American debt negotiations reveals for the first time the amounts the French must pay annually to J. P. Morgan & Co., and American investors and also discloses the substance of the French rejection of the American investors and also discloses the substance of the French rejection of the American counter-proposal.)

Washington, D. C.—France has rejected America's suggestion that the basis of settlement on war debts be developed along the lines of the present British-American agreement.

In a brief statement filling about a page and a half of ordinary type-written paper, the French mission declared that it would go no further than to undertake an obligation at this time which might be required in a few years to confess she cannot fulfill. No new figures or offers were made by the French but it was stated by M. Caillaux that if the United States would agree to the so-called safeguard clause he would be willing to examine the situation anew and present figures for further consideration.

The safeguard clause runs about like this:
"In case of circumstances beyond the control of France interfering with one of the elements of French capacity to pay, the present arrangement will be reconsidered and subjected to revision."

REJECTED BEFORE
Such a clause was rejected by the United States when proposed by Great Britain in the Baldwin-Mellon negotiations. Such a clause also was recently rejected by Winston Churchill of the British government in negotiating with M. Caillaux but the British did say they would accept 50 per cent of the Dawes payments due from Germany. In other words, England regarded the clause as too uncertain, but realized that some diminution of German payments might be expected as was willing to accept a definite sum now as the agreed-upon proportion.

The United States government may be expected, therefore, to reject also the safeguard clause. The French know it, but out of the idea may come some sort of compromise proposal.

This the French really are anxious to get, namely, that the reduction of the total be in some way agreed upon if unlooked for events diminish the French capacity to pay. Possibly the United States will agree to a moratorium of payments in such an event, but a cancellation of indebtedness is wholly unlikely.

The French finance minister in his statement to the American mission explains why France must revert to her first offer of $5,000,000 for the next five years and graduated payments upward to $90,000,000 thereafter. He does not list them but among these are the payment of $20,000,000 to the American government for war supplies bought after the American Expeditionary forces left France and the interest and sinking fund payments on the various commercial loans made through J. P. Morgan & Co.

Figures obtained from French sources showing the approximate payments due on the various Morgan loans, which is $33,400,000 for 1926, $28,000,000 in 1927 and decreasing at the rate of $300,000 to $1,000,000 a year down to the year 1949 with an installment of $5,000,000.

These figures are important because Senator Borah, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, has written Secretary Mellon asking why it is that the French government can pay American private bankers interest rates running up to 7 1/2 per cent and the American government cannot get even 3 1/2 per cent interest. The French are ready to answer Senator Borah. They point out that it is one thing to pay 7 1/2 per cent on a loan of $400,000,000 and quite another thing to be asked to pay 3 1/2 per cent on a loan running over $4,000,000,000.

MITCHELL ON STAND IN AIR SERVICE QUIZ

Ready to Produce Vast Information, "Constructive" and "Destructive"

Washington—(AP)—Col. William Mitchell who precipitated the aircraft row, Tuesday poured another avalanche of criticism on the heads of those charged with administering the nation's air services.

Testifying before the president's air board he assailed the army general staff, declared it incompetent to draft air policies, and placed upon its officers the blame for what he described as an impoverished and inadequate air defense.

The colonel also dropped verbal bombs on the navy, charging its ranking officials with looking upon aviation as a subordinate adjunct of defense. He advocated pushing the fleet to sea to fight "where it belongs."

To the chief of cameras and flashing of photographic apparatus, the former assistant chief of the army air service began his testimony first asking that he be sworn. He spread before him a large map of the world and two aides carried voluminous documentary exhibits.

The board declined to place him under oath and assured him his testimony would be given credence.

Col. Mitchell had nine papers he desired to read all "destructive," except one which was "constructive," and which he said he would not read if the board objected. In America the development of aircraft has been "slow and inefficient," he said.

"No surface vessel" exist so long as aircraft are in existence. They can put out of commission any naval surface vessel more effectively and economically than any other unit.

The "destructive" paper, he declared.

Rekindled Interest Points To Fair Sized Vote Today

Milwaukee—(AP)—Wisconsin voters came out of a semi-stupor and appeared to take cognizance today that there will be an election in the state Tuesday to decide whether Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., can repeat his primary success of two weeks ago and poll sufficient votes to elect him to the seat in the United States senate vacated through the death of his father.

After lethargic attitudes had been taken by the voters for the last two weeks, indications Tuesday were that the ruling issue "LaFollette or anti-LaFollette" has finally been impressed in such a way as to make probable a fair sized vote. Young Bob LaFollette with third party principles but the Republican nomination and endorsement of the Coolidge administration emphasizing its economy program and promising to apply the same economic principles to the state administration in case he is elected.

John M. Work, the Socialist candidate contented himself with a statement calling upon all Socialists not to be misled by LaFollette's endorsement of the 1921 Cleveland convention platform and to vote their own party ticket. He accused LaFollette of being insincere.

William George Bruce, a Democrat running independent of party designation finished his campaign on Saturday. For a time last week, few could be found who thought Tuesday's vote would be even as heavy as that of the Sept. 15 primary.

It was expected that the vote after working hours would swell the total beyond the primary. The polls will close at 8 o'clock tonight.

The total by wards and the comparison with the primary is:

SEES NO SIGNS OF BREAK IN DEBT PARLEY

French and Americans Optimistic as Both Appear to Retreat a Little

Washington—(AP)—Indication of a slight retreat on both sides from their initial positions appeared to sustain the optimism of most of the French and American negotiators Tuesday as they pursued their efforts to find a mutually acceptable basis of settlement for the French debt.

Both commissions have suggested modified plans of settlement which in their respective opinions offer some concession to the views of the other. After the French at the first of the two plenary sessions Monday had suggested terms which they regarded as going farther than their first offer calling for a $25,000,000 first payment, Secretary Mellon at the second session, countered with a proposal of terms described as perhaps more favorable than those extended to Great Britain.

Although another plenary session of the commission was scheduled for 3 o'clock Tuesday, apparently the negotiations had reached a status where the greatest importance and promise of progress attached to the more informal discussion of the problem by individuals and groups within the two bodies.

Despite the absence of any definite announcement of results in the efforts to reconcile the widely divergent views, treasury officials do not regard the negotiation as having approached the stage of a threatened break.

There are increasing signs that the question of interest rates in the settlement is one of the chief difficulties now being faced.

PRISON RIOTS LEAD TO MURDER CHARGES

Lincoln, Nebr.—(AP)—Joe Dunn, gunman, and Roy Smith, bank robber and burglar, will be charged with murder in connection with the riot at Nebraska state penitentiary Monday in which Fred Brown, kidnaper and desperado, and Clarence E. Morse, a guard were killed.

Smith, who was wounded in the gun battle between convicts and guards, was reported still in a critical condition in the prison hospital. Physicians said T. A. Kriger, guard, was not seriously hurt.

"As I recall, the ship rose rapidly to about 3,500 feet during which time the rudderman was having very great difficulty holding the ship on its course. As near as I can remember, it was at about 3,500 feet when the ship which was being held down by the nose at a considerable angle, suddenly nosed over. Immediately following this nosing down the ship started to nose up rapidly, when there was a sharp grinding and wrenching of the girders heard which told us immediately that the ship was breaking some-where about midship and at the same time there was a momentary jarring or shaking of the control car. Some one said 'there she goes' I felt the ship start to fall rapidly so I turned to the ladder and started for the keel. Col. Hall had just preceded me."

Lieutenant Anderson then described how girders and wires gave way around him on the catwalk and how he finally grabbed the keel and held on there as the bow of the ship broke away and began to free balloon.

NO ELECTION EXTRA

Because of the apparent lack of interest in the senatorial election today, the Post-Crescent will not issue an extra edition to carry election returns, as has been its practice in the past. Preparations are being made to secure election returns, however, and a corps of operators will be at the Post-Crescent office to give information to those who call by telephone.

STORM AROSE FAST, AVERS WEATHER MAN

Men on Board Shenandoah Felt No Concern for Safety During Night of Wreck

Lakehurst, N. J.—(AP)—Mrs. Margaret Ross Lansdowne, widow of commander Zachary Lansdowne, captain of the Shenandoah, accepted Tuesday the invitation of the naval court of inquiry to appear and make a statement.

After the Shenandoah wreck Mrs. Lansdowne was quoted as having said that Commander Lansdowne was reluctant to make the mid-western trip because of the danger of thunderstorms and it was for that reason that she was invited to appear as a witness. The calling of a woman in an inquiry into the loss of a naval ship is believed by many officers to be without precedent.

That the great arship Shenandoah held true to her course in the face of gathering clouds in which the responsible officers aboard believed there lurked no menace for the craft, was disclosed Tuesday before the naval court of inquiry here by Lieut. Joseph B. Anderson, weather expert aboard the ship.

Describing the clouds as of much the same appearance as those which had covered the airship throughout the night of Sept. 23-24, Lieut. Anderson said there was nothing that showed a severe storm in the formation and that when the ship began her first ascent no concern was caused to the officers in charge. In a few minutes, however, it came home to all that the craft was in the worst storm she had ever encountered.

FEEL SAFE
So certain were the officers that there was nothing dangerous ahead that the vessel was turned back to her original course after she had been turned to the southward when the clouds were first noticed.

"Shortly after the ascent began," Lieut. Anderson continued, "we realized that we were in stronger currents than we had thought for they were unable to check the rise by means of the motors and elevators."

Commander Lansdowne immediately sent Anderson into the ship from the control car with orders from the officers to stand by the automatic valves. After explaining the ship's situation to these officers, Anderson returned to the control car to find that the Shenandoah still was rising from one to two meters and then was up between 4,000 and 5,000 feet.

"At this time," continued Anderson, "Captain Lansdowne, after hasty conference with several of the officers on watch, ordered the maneuvering valves opened. With gas being exhausted through maneuvering and automatic valves, the captain began taking steps for the descent which we knew must soon follow. He directed me to go into the keel and pass the word to stand by the slip tanks."

GOT SURPRISE
"After I had delivered the captain's orders I started to return to the control car. When I got to the ladder and started down I was surprised to see that the gas bags which had been full and very tight when I was rising from one to two meters and then was up between 4,000 and 5,000 feet, were now practically no headway over the ground. During this descent the captain had ordered water ballast discharged."

"Then began another rapid ascent and the elevator which we knew must again be ordered to correct it. It was then that I first learned that engine trouble had developed, doubtless due to the angle at which the ship had been flying."

"As I recall, the ship rose rapidly to about 3,500 feet during which time the rudderman was having very great difficulty holding the ship on its course. As near as I can remember, it was at about 3,500 feet when the ship which was being held down by the nose at a considerable angle, suddenly nosed over. Immediately following this nosing down the ship started to nose up rapidly, when there was a sharp grinding and wrenching of the girders heard which told us immediately that the ship was breaking some-where about midship and at the same time there was a momentary jarring or shaking of the control car. Some one said 'there she goes' I felt the ship start to fall rapidly so I turned to the ladder and started for the keel. Col. Hall had just preceded me."

Lieutenant Anderson then described how girders and wires gave way around him on the catwalk and how he finally grabbed the keel and held on there as the bow of the ship broke away and began to free balloon.

ARNOLD MUST GO TO PRISON, IS DENIED APPEAL

Court Orders Immediate Execution of Sentence for Madison Bond Dealer

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—Petition of Victor H. Arnold, former banker of Madison, Wis., for a rehearing was denied Tuesday by the United States circuit court of appeals. He must go to prison for five years and pay a fine of $1,000 imposed in United States district court in Superior, Wis., on a mail fraud charge.

The appeals court at the same time issued a mandate ordering the immediate execution of the sentence. The circuit court of appeals previously had affirmed Arnold's conviction. Later he personally prepared and filed the petition for a rehearing, without offering any explanation for the reticence of his lawyers.

Arnold was president of the Madison Bond company at Madison which failed in January, 1922, with losses estimated as high as $500,000. Arnold was arrested at his Long Island, N. Y. home, where he had removed, and taken back to Madison on charges of embezzlement. The federal grand jury at Superior indicted him in September, 1923, on a charge of using the mails to defraud, and he was tried and convicted, and sentence was imposed on Oct. 31, 1923, by Federal Judge C. Z. Luse in Madison. A stay of execution was granted and Arnold appealed by writ of error but the circuit court of appeals here affirmed the sentence.

Arnold was one of the most prominent bond dealers in Wisconsin and formerly had been president of the Victor H. Arnold Co., of Chicago, a bond firm.

QUERY MAN AND WOMAN IN DRY LEADER'S DEATH

Vinton, Ia.—(AP)—County attorney J. D. Nichols announced Tuesday that Mrs. Hester Stelling of Sioux City was before the grand jury Tuesday in connection with that body's investigation of the slaying of Mrs. Myrtle Underwood Cook, Woman's Christian Temperance union president, shot to death in her home the night of Sept. 7. The questioning marked her third grand jury appearance.

Clifford B. Cook, husband of the slain woman, arrested Monday night on a perjury charge, growing out of alleged conflicting statements made as to his activities the day prior to the shooting, will have a preliminary hearing Friday.

Cook told the coroner jury that he was at Church the day prior to his wife's death. State agents said he and she spent practically the entire day with Mrs. Stelling.

Seaplanes Flying About Looking for Bodies Washed Overboard of Vessel

BULLETIN

New York—(AP)—The Independent Wireless Telegraph company received a message at noon Tuesday from the East Hampton station announcing that the S-51 had been raised to surface and that all on board were dead.

U. S. Submarine Base, New London, Conn.—(AP)—The body of John L. Gibson, engineman, first class, of Portland, Ore., was removed from the wrecked submarine S-51 by divers Tuesday.

Gibson's body was the first to be taken from the wrecked ship and its recovery followed the complete suspension of attempts to lift the craft. With wrecking ships and a concentration of effort on the part of divers who went down into the sea to explore the wreckage.

A second body, that of William Charles Teschemacher, of Bangor, Pa., was taken from the submarine Tuesday forenoon; a radio dispatch to the naval ship here stated.

Teschemacher's twin brother Frederick, also was aboard and believed to have been lost. Frederick was thought to have been at the helm when the submarine struck and one of those washed overboard. The boys were 19 years old. The message did not state what compartment the youth's body was found in.

WAS MARRIED
John L. Gibson, whose body was the first taken from the submarine S-51, enlisted on Sept. 17, 1924. He gave his address at that time as Amity, Ore. He was 25 years old. The body was in good condition. Gibson's wife lives in Groton, Conn.

The recovery also indicated to those at the submarine base that the divers at last had been successful in their attempt to get inside the submarine. Monday night when the sea became too choppy for the wrecking ships to work the divers went down but were unable to get near the hatch which they hoped to enter because of strong tides which swept them off their course through the water.

Gibson's body was found in the battery room, that part of the submarine that was rammed by the Savannah line steamer City of Rome Friday night.

The first message gave no indication as to his body which was brought to the surface. Now did it indicate whether the divers had been able to penetrate farther into the craft to learn whether any doors to airtight compartments had been closed, thus offering the bare possibility that some of the 3 men who went down with the ship might yet be alive.

HUNT BY AIR
New London, Conn.—(AP)—In the air and under the sea men worked Tuesday in their search for the bodies of victims of the S-51 which went down last Friday night when she was rammed by the submarine S-51 at Newport Island of Rome, 15 miles off Block Island. The first body recovered was that of John L. Gibson, engineman, second class, and was found in the battery room of the ship by deep sea divers who resumed operations Tuesday morning after being forced by strong tides Monday night to stop work.

While these men prowled through the submarine base, the hum of seaplane motors could be heard overhead as naval aviators flew low over surrounding waters in an effort to find the bodies of three men believed to have been washed overboard with the three survivors who were picked up by a City of Rome lifeboat.

Rough seas necessitated the sending of the Monarch and Newport cranes which were at work at the scene of submerged S-51 to Newport and diving operations have been resumed.

This is the second time that the Monarch, the giant derrick from New York which reached the wreck early Monday morning has been ready to lend her power to hoisting the submerged S-51, and then called off.

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(AP)—Two men were reported killed Tuesday noon in an explosion in the state capitol building.

CHURCH HOUSING 500 FOR STATE CONCLAVE HERE

Congregational Parish Needs
Homes for 250 More,
Committee Is Informed

Homes for the entertainment of 250 delegates still are needed among parishioners of the First Congregational church for the Wisconsin Congregational conference opening here Monday evening, according to a check-up made by the general arrangements committee at a meeting at the church Monday evening. Satisfactory progress is being made on the plans for the seventy-fifth anniversary celebration of the Appleton church, which is being held at the same time.

Preparations are being made for 500 delegates expected here for the state conference. They will begin arriving Monday afternoon and will remain in the city until Thursday afternoon when the conference closes. Members of the church are being asked to house the delegates and furnish them with breakfast. The city has been divided into zones and the staff of each parish district is calling on the members to obtain a list of available homes. Those who have not been seen and can take delegates are requested to notify T. E. Orblison, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Diners, suppers and the conference banquet on Wednesday evening of next week are to be served in the dining room of the Methodist church by the Social union of that congregation. It is expected that all delegates will be met at the railroad stations by automobiles and conveyed to the First Congregational church, where the headquarters will be conducted.

Committees in charge of the preparations for the conference and the diamond anniversary celebration are headed by these chairmen: General committee, F. J. Harwood; meals, Mrs. George R. Wettengel; registration, Mrs. Paul Hackbert; information, Hugh G. Corbett; reception for other churches, Mrs. T. W. Orblison; entertainment, T. E. Orblison; finance, W. O. Thiede; ushers, A. J. Donald, 2, Ends His First World Jaunt At Police Desk Donald Alesch, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alesch, 524 W. Lawrence-st., enjoyed his first sight seeing trip of the city alone Monday afternoon. He didn't get very far, but the experience evidently furnished him with a good deal of entertainment, judging from the gurgles of delight he emitted at the police station where he was brought in from his wanderings.

Donald was found on the corner of W. College-ave and Walnut-st at 1:45 Monday afternoon by Edward Beckman of the town of Center. He was toddling about the corner as fast as his little legs could carry him, apparently unmindful of the fact that he was alone—an absolute stranger in a strange city.

Beckman noticed that Donald wasn't very well acquainted. He also feared that Donald was hardly able to care properly for himself, in spite of the confident front which the latter presented. So Beckman took the child to the police station and asked the police to help this bold little man find his way home.

While the police were checking up on Donald's past and trying to discover where he came from, the youngster fell asleep, evidently exhausted from his wanderings. The fact that he was in the police station did not bother him one bit.

Desk Sergeant James Moore and Detective Sergeant Matthew McGinnis made him as comfortable as possible. They set two chairs together, covered them with blankets and placed the sleeping boy on them. And Donald slept soundly until almost 4 o'clock, at which time his parents were located.

During his sleep two persons arrived at the station, recognized him

Three months is a long time to keep from driving a car, especially if one likes to drive, but that is the length of time Orey Morack, New London, will have to keep his hands off a steering wheel, as a penalty for driving Monday evening while intoxicated. The sentence was imposed by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Tuesday morning. Morack also paid a fine of $50 and costs, totalling $86.70.

Alfred Dunn, county motorcop, picked up Morack Monday evening when the latter was "making about seven trails" in trying to zigzag his car over a road in the town of Horton. Morack did not have anything to say for himself when arraigned in municipal court Tuesday morning, but entered a plea of guilty immediately.

GAMEL GIVES HIS LAST TALK TO MEN AND BOYS OF CITY

Boy Worker to Talk on Life's Most Sacred Function at Congregational Church

Men and boys of Appleton will have their last opportunity to hear Frank H. Gamel, noted biology expert, at 7:30 Tuesday evening when he will talk on Life's Most Sacred Function at the First Congregational church. The talk will be for men and boys only. On Friday evening he will give a talk for women and girls only at the church. Practically all of Mr. Gamel's time outside of the talks will be devoted to personal interviews with high school boys. Wednesday evening he will discuss problems of boy and girl workers with these special groups at the Y. M. C. A.

A large delegation from Green Bay and Kaukauna is expected at both of Mr. Gamel's main lectures this week and both cities are endeavoring to secure his services for their citizens for at least a few days after he leaves here. He may speak at Kaukauna Saturday if it can be arranged.

No boy under 14 should attend Tuesday evening's lecture unless accompanied by his father or temporary dad, it was said. Fathers of younger sons should feel free to bring them if they so desire. Boys as young as 12 are often taken to the lecture and reports show that no father has ever been heard to express regret at having taken a younger boy to hear it.

The lecture is illustrated by a motion picture produced for educational purposes, and it has been rated by competent critics as the most instructive, helpful, and altogether satisfactory discussion of sex matters yet offered. Scientifically accurate in every detail, delightfully satisfying in its wide-open frankness, it is still so quietly chaste and reverent in both subject matter and method of presentation that it fits the reproductive function, and everything pertaining to it, entirely out of the realm of the morbid, and establishes it, firmly, among the most sacred things of life.

It supplies a wealth of information which every man and boy ought to have, but which few have opportunity to earn from clean, reliable sources; and the revelation concerning the terrible consequences of the venereal diseases carry a startling warning never to be forgotten.

Club Gets Started On Its Drive

With 75 of the 100 solicitors of Appleton Women's club present at the initial banquet for the financial and membership campaign of the club Monday evening at the club rooms, final plans were completed and the double drive was started in earnest Tuesday morning. The drive was to run until Friday evening and the entire city was to be canvassed by the workers.

Wednesday night another supper will be held for a partial report and Friday night the final report will take place and the final reports will be read. Officials of the club stated that the organization will be run on a $10,000 budget this year, which is exactly the same amount used each year since the club was first established. The entire city has been "blocked" for the membership and financial drive and often as possible the workers will be allowed to solicit among the women of their own neighborhood. An up-town campaign among the business men interested in the club's work also will be part of the drive.

A humorous playlet put on by club members concerning the campaign, featured the pep program Monday evening. The playlet was called the Wedding of Miss Womans club and Mr. 1925 Campaign. Time of the play was the fall of 1925 and the place was Appleton. Characters were the bride, Miss Womans' Club, (Mrs. Mabel Shannon), the groom, Mr. 1925 Campaign, (Miss Elfrida Stefensen), the bridesmaids, Miss Art Department, (Mrs. E. C. Hilbert), and Miss Music Department, (Mrs. H. F. Hackworth), best man, Mr. Full Membership, (Mrs. L. C. Sleeper), the minister, Mr. President of Womans Club, (Mrs. Joseph Koffend, Jr.), seven girls the Koffend twins; organist, Mrs. Jennings.

Upon the expressed wish of the bride and groom that they desire to work together the minister starts the marriage ceremony. He asks if anyone is against the union and then asks Miss Womans' club if she will uphold, work for and save for the groom and the groom if he will support the bride for at least a year being willing to give her any extra money or support she may even think she needs.

I am enclosing, little Marquise, a clipping from the society columns of The Albany Express about Alice Hartley's wedding.

It may interest you to know just how we of today conduct these affairs. I expect this is very different from the way they were conducted when you possibly hoped that you might be the wife of a king instead of his secret sweetheart.

You will see that the reporter gave a little as she said: "Today at high noon, Miss Alice Hartley and Mr. Porter Breed were married at St. John's Episcopal Church. The wedding was perhaps the most impressive and elegant that has ever been solemnized in this city. Although the invitations were quite informal, as the wedding was rather a hurried one, every society matron and maid seemed to have purchased a new gown for the occasion."

"The whole interior of the church was a bower of spring blossoms. The chancel was completely covered with lilies of the valley and orchids. Its beauty was so overpowering that it almost overpowered the guests. There was little of the usual gay whispering while waiting the arrival of the bride."

"It is probable that never in the history of Albany society has there been such an exquisite wedding pageant as proceeded the beautiful bride up the aisle of St. John's Church."

"Mrs. Walter Burke, who was matron of honor, was in orchid chiffon, crowned with a great picture hat covered with orchids. Her jewelry were amethysts and diamonds and regally she headed the procession of the fairest and smartest girls in the city."

"Miss Bernice Oliver, in pale rose chiffon; Miss Sally Harriman, in blue; Miss Irene Santley, in pastelle green, and Miss Edith Wharton, in light yellow, followed the radiant matron of honor. All wore picture hats and flowers to match."

"The bride, in a magnificent white brocade satin with a rose-point wedding veil, was escorted to the chancel by Mr. John Alden Prescott, where she was met by Mr. Breed and his best man, Mr. Walter Burke. The union of these two people accompanied a boy and girl love affair, and brought into one two of the oldest names in the society annals of the city."

"Although the parents of Miss Hartley are both dead, her father having passed away about a year ago, the older families can remember when the Hartley home on the hill was the center of attraction for all the young people in the city. Five generations of Hartleys have lived in the old mansion which unfortunately passed out of the family during the life of the bride's father."

"That the bridegroom had many romantic and sentimental memories of the old home is evidenced by the fact that it was one of his magnificent presents to his bride on her wedding day."

"The happy couple, upon whom fortune has seemed to smile, will go abroad for a leisurely summer among the Swiss and Italian lakes, where they will be joined a little later by Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton, her son-in-law Mr. Karl Whitney."

Adventures Of The Twins

THORNS, SPARKS AND WIND
"What do you want?" asked Twelve Toes, the Scorer, as Nancy and Nick appeared at his front door.

"We came to get the rainbow-colored balloon from the Sour-Old-Woman - 'Who-Lives-Under-the-Waterfall,'" said Nick.

"Humph! I don't care if you came to get it for the Dear-Old-Man-Who-Lives-On-the-Moon," said Twelve Toes. "You can't have it."

"That's too bad," said Nancy, "for we have to get it some way."

Twelve Toes looked suspicious. "How can you?" he asked. "Have you any magic along?"

"Just our shoes," said Nick bravely. "Oh, ho! You don't carry things with your feet?" said Twelve Toes.

"No, but we run with them," said Nick, who had spun the many-colored balloon floating in a dark corner near the ceiling. Seizing the balloon by its string, he was off with one bound. Nancy close at his heels.

Twelve Toes was so surprised that he almost forgot to gnash his teeth as he always did when he was disappointed—or surprised—or cross.

The Twins were over the Wobbly Mountain before Twelve Toes quite realized what had happened.

Then he was too far behind to follow, so he waved his magic wand and muttered:

"Eier-brier limber lock. Thorns grow thick, their way to block."

Instantly a thicket of thorns appeared before the Twins, directly in their path.

Remembering what the Sour-Old-Woman had said about thorns, Nancy pulled Nick by the coat-tail.

"You'll have to stop," she said. "You will spoil the balloon if you go."

Suddenly a voice said, "Feel us! Just feel us!" The Twins looked around but saw no one. Then Nick remembered that the thicket had not been there when they had come that way before. "It must be magic," he thought. "And being magic it is the thicket talking."

So he reached out and touched a thorn. Instantly it bent.

"Why these thorns are made of rubber," Nancy, he said. "Come along. They can't prick the balloon." And he plunged right through the thicket without so much as a scratch.

But when they crossed the next mountain, suddenly a fire sprang out of the top, throwing sparks all around them.

"It's a volcano," cried Nancy. "If the sparks touch the balloon it will blow up. Be careful, Nick."

But Nick reached out his hand and touched one of them as it fell starlike to the ground.

"They are only Japanese sparklers like we put off on the Fourth-of-July," he said. "They're cold."

So on they went again right through the rain of sparks. But when they crossed the last mountain, the one made of glass, a great puff of wind almost wrenched the balloon from his hand. The string might have broken, but Nick grabbed the balloon in his arms.

The wind lifted both boy and balloon.

Women Who Age

All welcome to this test
By Edna Wallace Hopper

At a grandmother's age, I keep my youthful bloom and contours. The thousands who see me daily on the stage and elsewhere know that I look 19.

That is due to factors science made for me, and one is my White Youth Clay.

This is a new-type clay, white, refined and dainty. It is nothing like the crude and muddy clays so many have employed.

It combines two clays with other needed factors. The clays are clean and white. This is a dainty application, and the final result of 20 years of scientific study.

White Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs and mars it. It removes the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It draws the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is a rosy afterglow which amazes and delights.

It combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. Many women seem to drop ten years with a single application.

Clay is a beauty essential. No woman can look her best without it, or keep her youth. In all the ages none have found a beauty help to compare with clay.

Now clay is made inviting. It is made to combine added helps. Whatever other clay you may have tried, you owe yourself a test of this new type.

Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay is supplied by all druggists and toilet counters at 50c and $1. Send coupon for trial tube.

Let it show what it does.

Letters Like This Prove the Reliability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Turtle Lake, Wisconsin. -- "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness, backache and nervousness. I had these troubles for years and had taken other medicines for them, but I have found no medicine so good as the Vegetable Compound and I recommend it to my friends who have troubles similar to mine. I saw it advertised and thought I would try it and it has helped me in all my troubles. I have six children and I have taken the Lydia E. Pinkham Vegetable Compound before each one was born, for weakness, vomiting, poor appetite and backache, and again after childbirth because of dizzy he daches. It is a good medicine for it always helps me. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for the last eight years for constipation." Mrs. MABEL LA POINT, R.F.D. No. 1, Turtle Lake, Wisconsin.

Car Figures in Wild Ride at KaukaunaKaukauna—A heavily laden truck driven by the Northern Transportation
Co., Green Bay, "ran away" on Monday morning and before its wild racer was stopped it had endangered the lives of people on the street, knocked over a mail box and crashed into the door of the Grand View hotel.The driver of the truck had left his car parked on Law-st on the grade just at the head of the bridge.
He started moving when the brakes let go and as it went down the bridge it gradually gained speed until at the foot of the bridge it attained a speed of at least 40 miles an hour.Traveling at a high speed the car crossed the Municipal building made the slight turn to the right and passed between a row of parked cars without damaging any of them. Still going, the huge car travelled right up the steep grade to the narrow bridge over the power canal. In the middle of the bridge the truck passed a car belonging to H. Vander Heden of this city and just grazed his fender.Passing over the bridge the truck crossed over all of the rail road tracks on the south side of the canal without being diverted from its course. After crossing the tracks the car climbed onto the sidewalk at the corner of Main-ave and Second-st and passing between a telephone post and a tree crashed into a mailbox and knocked it over. Then the truck leaped back into the road and crossed Second-st. climbed onto the sidewalk again and crashed into a side door of the Grand View hotel and smashed it in. Here the wild ride ended.Just a minute before the runaway car climbed the side walk in front of the Grand View hotel a taxi had been parked there with several passengers in it. If the car had struck the sidewalk several feet more to the right it would have crashed through the plate glass windows of the hotel.WORKMAN HURT

Crews Get into Squabble
Near KaukaunaKaukauna—Jack Kenny of Danville Ill., is in St. Elizabeth hospital with several broken ribs as a result of a fight between a threshing crew on a farm near where they were working and a gang of men employed by the Hoosier Engineering company, which is setting poles for a high tension line from Milwaukee to the northern part of Wisconsin.It was said that the farmer on whose land the construction crew was working had ordered the men off unless they paid for the water they were using. Kenny, who was passing the place where the farmers were working, was ordered off the land. He immediately reported to the boss who told him to go right on ahead.
It is alleged Kenny was attacked and the boss was to his rescue, and the menmen the entire crew was threshing at the farm at this time joined in the squabble and the crew of the Hoosier Engineering company also went into the fray. Kenney was knocked down and kicked. It was reported that stones and rocks were hurled during the fight.

Announcement

To Our Many Friends and Patrons:

As it has always been the aim of the Aug. Brandt Company, to give to the public the best possible service at the lowest possible price, we wish, at this time, to announce that on Oct. 1, 1925 our business will be put on a strictly cash basis, this includes Stock Room and Service Department, Cars and Tractors on terms as heretofore.This new system will, we feel work out to the mutual benefit of the patron as well as to the Aug. Brandt Company: To us by eliminating the labor and expense of keeping and carrying the hundreds of accounts on the books, also the cost of collecting and the loss of the many accounts.This saving to the dealer will make it possible to do business on a smaller margin of profit, also making it possible to put into effect the Ford Flat Rate of Service Charges which are considerably lower than the regular service rates, and eliminates the possibility of inflated rates to the cash customer necessary to defray, in part at least, some of the losses through poor accounts where the credit system is used.Trusting we may have the same loyal support and patronage in the future that we have had in the past we are yours for a bigger, better, more efficient service at a more reasonable rate.

STAGE And SCREEN

FOURTEEN INTERNATIONAL BEAUTY FAVORITES
IN THIS ONE

Paramount's highly-touted production, "The Dressmaker from Paris," will be shown at Fischer's Appleton Theatre 3 days starting next Monday.

Leatrice Joy and Ernest Torrence are featured in the principal roles of the picture, which was written especially for the screen by Adelaide Heilbron and Howard Hawks.

"The Dressmaker from Paris" is a romance of a little French midwife who becomes a famous creator of fashions. As regards story, heart interest, beautiful girls and gorgeous costumes, it lives up to everything that has been claimed for it in advance.

Miss Joy is cast in the role of the little errand girl Fifi. Torrence plays Angus McGregor, a Scotch gentleman, store owner with moths in his pocketbook.

Allan Forrest is leading man, a young army captain, who, when he gets into "civils," starts to whoop things up in the business line in a little mid-west American town, is great.

Mildred Harris plays McGregor's daughter, Joan. She has an affair with Forrest, but Fifi is his choice, and in the end he gets her.

In this picture Paramount has gathered together fourteen girls billed as International Beauty Models, and fourteen more beautiful girls we have never seen on the screen before. They appear as "The Dressmaker's" mannikins in the production. Each has four or five changes of gowns, designed for this production by French fashion creator brought to Hollywood from Paris solely for this purpose.

"The Dressmaker from Paris," shows Paul Derr at his top speed—and that's something.

There's an A-1 supporting cast. An elaborate style show will be staged in conjunction by Geenen's and The Novelty Boot Shop.

LATEST LILLIAN GISH FILM, "ROMOLA," DEBUT HERE
Lillian Gish in "Romola," her most beautiful picture, opened at the Elite Theatre yesterday for a run of 3 days. "Romola" is a story of the exciting life of the Florentines during the Italian renaissance, and is an adaptation of the novel by George Eliot. It is one of the outstanding pictures of the year.

Dorothy Gish is featured in the cast, while others include Ronald Colman, William H. Powell, Charles Lane, and Herbert Grimwood. "Romola" was directed by Henry King, who brought his company over to Florence to get the exact locale. It is an Inspiration picture, distributed by Metro Goldwyn.

NORMA SHEARER AS CHILD AND WOMAN (ADVANCE READER)
The charming Norma Shearer, who is costared with Lon Chaney in "The Tower of Lies," directed for Metro Goldwyn-Mayer, and coming to the Elite Theatre on Thursday and Friday, is again seen in a role which calls for a wide range of acting on account of the great number of years through which the story runs.

In the early part of the picture she appears as a child then a young woman and finally as a woman of thirty who has become hardened from years of the world. The success of Miss Shearer in the dual role of "Lady of the Night," caused her to be cast in the role of the heroine of Selma Lagerlof's great Swedish novel. Chaney and Miss Shearer are supported by a remarkable cast of well-known character players.

CONGRESS STIRS UP OLD QUARREL ON PROTECTION

South and Mid-west Ready to Battle New England's Plea
for Higher Tariff

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington.—Domestic and foreign competition is responsible for the slump in "down east" industries. This will be the argument of numerous mid-western and southern legislators when New England manufacturers, especially of textiles, make their expected appeal to Congress next winter for a higher tariff against imports.

Press comment from the Mississippi valley and south of the Mason and Dixon line concerning the New Englanders' plea is pretty much all to the same effect—that the east doesn't realize to what an extent the rest of the country is becoming industrialized.

The west says they continue to assume that their factories are rivaled only abroad, whereas their most formidable competitors now are right here at home.

Most of the western and southern lawmakers who already are in the capital speak in much the same way.

The mid-westerners and southerners make out a good case in favor of their contention that eastern capitalists of industry have overlooked the recent rapid development of electric and water power in their respective territories, the trend of comparative cheap colored labor away from the farms and into their factories and the significant growth in importance of southern ports.

That the mid-west, in particular, was quicker than the east to appreciate the value of Latin American trade is very clear.

The east had a spasm of activity in that direction immediately after the war, but it didn't last.

Managers of most eastern plants soon lost interest in it and concentrated on domestic markets. Those in the Mississippi valley hung on.

Moreover, they began bringing in increasing quantities of raw materials from the non-industrial Latin American republics and shipping them back, and to the extent, as finished products.

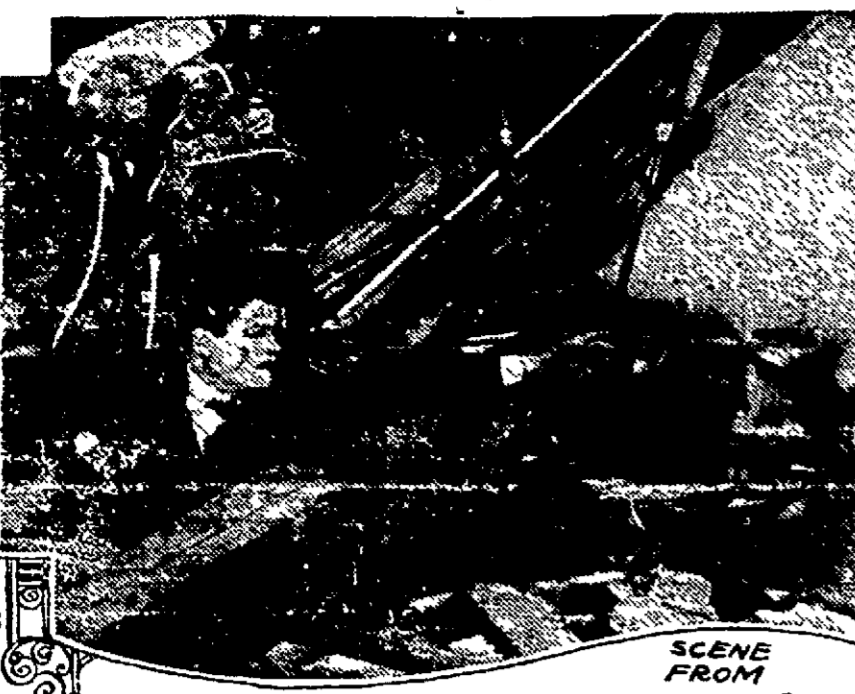

The beauty of this Latin American traffic, which the mid-west has quietly appropriated from the east, is, firstly, that it is in the nature of a very natural exchange—raw material for finished goods—and secondly, that the Latin American countries, due to lack of fuel, never can become industrial on a large scale.

The east is better situated geographically to deal with Europe, but the European peoples are manufacturers, too.

The tariff situation promises some very curious complications and new alignments.

It will be an important topic of discussion at the next session of Congress, though no charges in the schedule are likely then.

It will be a big issue, however, in the ensuing congressional elections. Upon their outcome will depend concrete developments when the seven-tieth Congress convenes.

Hotels Crowded Despite End Of Tourist Season

Despite the fact that the 1925 tourist season in Wisconsin is practically closed, hotels report as good a business, if not better than that of several months ago. All hotels in the city have been filled almost to capacity for the past month and there are no indications pointing to any decrease in the volume of travel for several weeks to come.

Traveling men comprise the biggest percentage of guests, according to proprietors of Appleton hostels. Fall and spring are the busiest times of the year for the average traveling man. This is the time merchants stock up on their supply of goods for the remainder of the year and as a consequence, more traveling men are on the road during these two periods than at any other time.

Hunters also make up a good percentage of guests at hotels, although many of these outdoorsmen prefer the out-of-doors and have hunting shacks located at their favorite lakes. With the opening of theaters, stage people make their appearance once more and help swell the attendance at hotels.

Resorts in the northern part of the state are practically deserted. Most of

and Court Orders Attorneys to Submit Briefs

Anton Boehm, Calumet Harbor, who ran down and seriously injured Benjamin Bestica about two months ago, and speeded away without rendering aid to the injured man was brought to trial in municipal court Monday morning, and testified that he did not realize he had knocked Bestica down, but thought he had only grazed by him and brushed him aside. Boehm waived the privilege of trial by jury.

After Boehm had given his version of the accident Judge Theodore Derg ordered attorneys to prepare briefs and arguments, that he might be better able to determine whether Boehm had willfully run down Bestica, and if he had committed a

7,000 BAKERS ATTEND NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Erven Hoffman have returned from Buffalo, N. Y., where they attended the convention of the National Bakers association on Sept. 14, 15 and 16. They spent a few days in the east after the convention. Mr. Hoffman said there were about 7,000 bakers from all parts of the United States in attendance. The total registration at the convention including wives and families of bakers was about 12,000. Many elaborate exhibits of concerns manufacturing bakery were a prominent feature of the meeting. Mr. Hoffman was the only Appleton baker in attendance.

felony by so doing. The case was adjourned until Oct. 12, when briefs will be submitted and arguments of the opposing attorneys heard.

Boehm said that Bestica, after getting off a street car, had walked directly into the path of his car, and that he could not avoid striking him. He said, however, that he thought he had only grazed Bestica lightly and brushed him aside, and that he had no idea Bestica had been knocked and seriously injured. Boehm said he did not stop as he was too excited, and did not have any idea that serious consequences had resulted from the accident.

COOPERATION IS FIRST PLEA OF NEW PRESIDENT

Dr. Wriston Urges Students and Faculty to Work Together for Advancement of Lawrence

"We can't stand still—we must either go forward or backward." So declared Dr. Henry M. Wriston, newly elected president of Lawrence, in his first talk to the student body in chapel assembly Monday. Pres. Wriston believes that Lawrence is a growing concern. "Many institutions are going forward by momentum, but behind Lawrence is a reserve energy which must drive it forward." The keynote of the address was a plea for closer cooperation between students and faculty. "The faculty alone cannot cause the school to progress, nor can the trustees, nor money alone. Cooperation is necessary." Reviewing the reasons why cooperation is difficult, he enumerated the differences in ages between the faculty and students, the fact that in a certain sense the faculty is the student's guardian, and the responsibility placed upon the faculty as guardians.

"The faculty is not interested in rules," he said. "It is interested in the advance of learning, effective teaching, and primarily in being the students' friends." That the new president is in favor of the honor system was indicated strongly by his statement that progress depended upon student leadership.

Dr. Wriston spoke very highly of Dr. Wilson S. Naylor's work as acting president of the school. "I have worked with four acting-presidents," he said, "and I have known none to govern with no slack and no slag except Dr. Naylor."

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brockhouse, Mrs. Anna Stoffels and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hildebrandt visited friends at Oconto Sunday.

Flax-li-num

the building insulation

—if you would know what comfort means insulate your home with FLAX-LI-NUM

If you would have a home that is proof against the fatiguing heat of mid-summer, and also proof against the cold of winter, you must insulate the home you plan to build with Flax-li-num, the correct building insulation—the thick, heat resisting material that shuts out the heat in summer and keeps it in during the winter.

Only those who live in houses insulated with Flax-li-num know what complete, year 'round comfort means.

The occupants of a Flax-li-num-insulated house have the use of their entire home in all seasons. In summer, sleeping rooms and living rooms are always cool. In winter, a comfortable, healthful, draft-free temperature is easily maintained throughout the home. Every room is usable. Every room is comfortable. Every room is healthful for young or old.

No home can be called strictly modern unless it is insulated with this effective and efficient barrier to the passage of heat.

Flax-li-num can no longer be considered an extra. It is an essential in a well constructed home. It cannot be considered an expense. It is really an economy. It makes possible the use of a smaller heating plant. This means an immediate saving, and it reduces annual fuel expense 25% to 33 1/3%. This is a saving which can be noted the very first year the house is occupied and continues to be apparent year after year.

The column on the right tells you, briefly, about the scientific details which make Flax-li-num the correct building insulation.

Without incurring any obligation you may send the coupon below, either to the distributor whose name appears in this advertisement, or to the Flax-li-num Insulating Co., Saint Paul, Minn., and you will receive the full, interesting story of this effective insulating material, and of how you may realize on its advantages, whether you are going to build, buy, rent or now own your home.

GRUNDEMAN IS SECOND HIGH IN GUARD SHOOT

Captain E. F. Grundeman won second place in individual marksmanship Sunday at the Fox River valley national guard shooting contest at Neenah. Colonel Frank Schellner of Neenah took first place. Only two Neenah teams, one from Company I of Neenah, and one from the adjutant division of the Twenty-second cavalry, also of Neenah, were entered in the firing contest. An Appleton team was scheduled to have taken part in the match, but owing to inability of team members to get together for practice, it was decided by Lieutenant Claude P. Schroeder not to enter.

Are You A Good Gambler?

SOME FOLKS persist in gambling on the weather. They think, "Perhaps it won't turn cold for a few weeks. I'll wait a while before getting my winter clothes ready to wear."

And like many other gamblers, they often lose. The first cold wave finds them shivering around with summer coat collar turned up, or dodging down the side streets wearing last year's soiled and wrinkled overcoat.

But no one needs to speculate on the weather. It is just as easy to have your winter clothes cleaned and refreshed now as it will be when the thermometer's down to zero.

Phone 259 today and let us call for your winter clothes. We'll clean them thoroughly, press them on our Valetaria, and return them to you promptly.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

I. Drive to the right of the road. II. It's just as good as the left.

Slow down when approaching a cross road, it is nearly as dangerous as a railroad crossing.

Look out for children, you never can tell what they will do and you are always in the wrong if you hit one.

Try to help instead of hinder the traffic officer; he is there for your good and he's got a tough job.

Be sure your dimmers are really dim, it's no joke driving into a blinding glare, as you probably know.

Read and obey the warning signs, they are not put up as ornaments.

If you feel you've got to speed—do it where it won't hurt anybody but yourself.

When making minor repairs, stop where your car may be seen from both directions, otherwise you may stop longer than you anticipate.

Speeding around corners is a straight route to the hospital. Don't race past a stopped street car. Some day the jury will call it manslaughter.

Use discretion. The fact that you had the right of way won't bring anybody back to life, least of all yourself.

And then he bought his PHILCO.

APPLETON LOCKS ARMS WITH FARM FOR PROGRESS

RELATIONS ARE CEMENTED BY SOCIAL SERVICE

Survey in Better Cities Contest Reveals Dependence of One Upon Another

Ministers, education, music, recreation, money, companionship and many other relations, tangible and intangible, are furnished to the rural community by the city of Appleton, according to the survey compiled by the town and country relations committee of the better cities contest. The report presented at the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work as one containing factors for the state prize of $1,000 shows that community activity here is closely interwoven with that of the farming population.

For instance: There are 137 rural students in Appleton high school. Fourteen churches are served by student pastors of Lawrence college. Fraternal organizations of Appleton count 669 farmers on their membership rolls.

Many gatherings have been held in Appleton for farmers, and many in the country attended by numbers of city persons.

POST IS CHAIRMAN

Members of the committee compiling the survey are: H. L. Post, chairman, Dr. William Madison, John Hantschel, R. A. Amundson, Emory Meltz, Walter Wiekert, A. G. Meating, W. E. Smith, Miss Sophia Schaefer, Miss Marie Klein, Mrs. J. J. Laird and Mrs. Clyde Caver.

Appleton's trading area, says the survey, includes a territory of 262,900 square miles. Smaller stores send out advertising regularly to a list of 3,000 persons and the larger stores to a list of 20,000.

Marketing of farm products is accomplished partly through four co-operating shipping associations with 475 members. The Greenville Shipping association has 50; Kaukauna Shipping association 200; Center Valley association 75. It is estimated that 1,500 pigs are sold at the monthly stock fair, to buyers from nearby places and from cities as far as Chicago, Clinton, Iowa, Houghton, Mich. and others.

All Appleton banks accept farm mortgages, the report points out, but do not cater to the chattel mortgage applicants. They also grant unsecured loans to farmers whose standing is satisfactory and seek farmers' checking and saving accounts. One bank's effort of three years in maintaining a farm agent is given particular credit for the presence here of R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent.

PLAY DAYS ATTRACTION

There are 132 school districts in Outagamie-co, it is shown, and an appropriation is given pupils who must go more than two miles. Courses of study are outlined definitely each six weeks by the county superintendent. Playdays are listed as an important recreation feature among the schools. The district playday in each school district drew an attendance last year of 2,640; playday in each township on town day, 1,400; county playday, 1,100 and county commencement, 1,200.

More pupils would be invited to attend Appleton high school and other public institutions here than the 137 reported, but the lack of space forbids this, the committee finds. The county training school's aid is given the rural schools also and cadet teachers are sent out from there every season.

FURNISH PASTORS

The fact that Appleton ministers extensively to the outlying community is shown by the residence here of three denominational superintendents, Methodist, Congregational and Evangelical, in addition to Prof. E. E. Enme, who directs state Methodist religious educational work. A report of Dr. J. H. Tippet, district superintendent of the Methodists, church, shows that student pastors from Lawrence college have supplied suburban churches for the following periods: Bear Creek 25 years, Gillett 15, Wittenberg 15, Hortonville 11, De Pere 8, Menasha 7, Appleton 15, Menasha 10, Oromorby 12, Marion 16, Medina 11, Hunting 9, Jola 14, Junction City 6, making a total of 163 years of service. College Y. M. C. A. deputations and city Y. M. C. A. gospel teams have conducted many services also in churches, reaching about 2,100 persons. Two regular pastors living in Appleton serve country churches.

Institutional service to the rural community includes use of Y. M. C. A. and Appleton Women's club social and reading rooms, "Y" employment bureau, chamber of commerce meeting room and church rooms.

Community rural meetings on farmers' lawns attended by both city and country persons are listed in the survey as one of the forms of social service. The union farmers' picnic attended by 10,000 persons is another. Added to this is the new county division of Appleton Women's club, which is cementing friendship. Farmers also are patrons of Appleton's band concerts and other public musical events here and on several occasions the chamber of commerce furnished a band for rural gatherings.

IN FRATERNAL BODIES

There are 6,229 members in Appleton fraternal organizations, with 429 from the rural districts included, forming another type of intermingling and cooperation.

Welfare work includes that of a

LOCAL CABBAGE YIELDS 9.7 TONS TO THE ACRE

Cabbage in the Outagamie and Racine commercial districts is making better yields than last year, figures compiled at Madison by Paul O. Nyhus, federal-state agricultural statistician, show.

The Danish cabbage acreage in the two counties is estimated to be 10,240, compared to 8,520 acres last year. The condition of the crop indicates an average yield of 9.7 tons per acre of a total production of 99,000 tons. Last year's crop was 64,000 tons.

OUTAGAMIE ONE OF 9 COUNTIES AWAITING TEST

T. B. Veterinary Force Has Examined Million and Half of State Dairy Cows

Although testing of cattle in Wisconsin for tuberculosis is proceeding rapidly, Outagamie-co may have to wait for sometime yet before the area is tested. In response to the petitions filed with the state department of agriculture, nine counties have their applications in for this service in addition to thirty already "cleaned up." Added help Dec. 1 may speed the arrival of the veterinarians here.

Reports from Madison declare that testing, by the Wisconsin department of agriculture, shows an average of 15 tubercular cattle in each 1,000 tested.

The department announced that 1,440,177 cattle, located in 30 counties, have been tested for tuberculosis under the area test plan. The thirty counties comprise 48.6 per cent of the geographical area of the state, and the percentage of infection ranged from three-tenths of one per cent to two and one-half per cent.

The total number of reactors removed from 30 counties was 17,812 and the average indemnity paid on grade animals was $27 and on purebreds $69.92. The average cost per head of testing to July 1, 1923 was 33 cents. For the two year period ending June 30, 1925, it was 18 1/2 cents.

"Original tests are being applied to all of the cattle in Forest and Shawano counties," said J. D. Jones, Jr., state commissioner of agriculture. "General retests have been completed in Ashland and Bayfield counties with a percentage of infection in each case less than five tenths of one per cent, which entitles the last named counties to be declared officially as 'modified accredited areas.' Nine counties containing approximately 480,000 cattle have filed petitions and await the application of a countywide test.

"During the month of July, there were tested in the state of Wisconsin by federal, state and approved veterinarians 110,370 cattle, a number nearly twice as large as were tested in any other state of the Union during the same period."

Two full-time area forces are engaged in the work, and it is understood that by Dec. 1, a third area stood that by Dec. 1, a third area

COPY WISCONSIN IDEA IN POULTRY GRADING

Madison — (AP) — Other states are adopting the Wisconsin system of accrediting hatcheries. M. Lach, poultry marketing specialist of the Wisconsin department of markets announces.

"The state accreditation of hatcheries started by Wisconsin five years ago has met a long felt need," he said. "Since Wisconsin has put this plan into effect many other states have attempted to work out a similar system. The system has brought considerable improvement in the quality of flocks sent to market. During the last four seasons 174 hatcheries were visited and $15,855 hens inspected in Wisconsin alone.

"The candling of eggs has found favor with dealers and consumers. It has contributed considerably to the improvement in the quality of eggs. One company states that as a result of egg candling their previous troubles with spoiled eggs have practically been eliminated. The improvement in quality is reflected in the higher prices which Wisconsin eggs command on the market. Conservatively estimated the increase in the price paid to Wisconsin producers amounted to $225,000 last year."

county nurse, testing of cattle for tuberculosis, providing of playground apparatus at country schools and care of the county's poor out of county funds. Forty-two persons were given $2,000 last year.

Adequate rural mail service, wide-spread telephone service, good highways and 11 motorbus lines operating 26 buses are indications of how closely the community is knit together with Appleton. Concentrated cultivation of the Post-Crescent over a wide area is cited as another feature.

Fifteen pig clubs organized by the county agent, parent-teacher associations in most of the rural schools, the county division of the women's club, eight county local, eight shipping associations and four Grange societies are shown to constitute part of the organization service. Assistance of the rural affairs committee of the chamber of commerce also has been a factor of great help. Work of the Kiwanis club in connecting social gathering in surrounding villages also is given as a source of cooperation.

The report concludes with statistics showing the number of domestic animals, value of farm products, etc.

FUTURE OUTAGAMIE-CO BREEDERS

INE youngsters who are members of Outagamie-co Calf club are shown here exhibiting some of their prize pets at the Hortonville fair. They are: (Left to right) John Bohren, Dale; Leda and Arthur Dobberstein and Lora Kluge, Hortonville. Boys and girls of the county are showing a great interest in the club which was organized last spring, and in which there are already 25 members. Most of these calves exhibited at Hortonville won prizes.

LOW 1925 YIELD OF BUCKWHEAT

Wisconsin Won't Give Pancake Eaters Normal Supply Due to Drouth This Summer

Madison — (AP) — Wisconsin farmers will furnish pancake eaters with fewer of the buckwheat variety than usual this year, crop reports of the state indicate.

Much of the buckwheat acreage was in blossom or filling when the drouth was most severe. Paul O. Nyhus, federal-state agricultural statistician says. The condition of the crop is 80 per cent of normal and was described as low "considering the early promise."

The buckwheat acreage of Wisconsin is about 28,000 acres, and the production is approximately 392,000 bushels. The largest producing territory is in the western portion of the state, in Eau Claire and nearby counties.

Other crops are comparatively small, but add to the farmer's cash are clover seed, field peas, field beans and sugar beets. Their condition on Sept. 1 was reported as follows:

Heavy yields of white and alsike clover seed are general in eastern Wisconsin. Medium red clover has made a good seed crop in most sections, but there are many late fields where the yield is still uncertain.

Sugar beets in eastern Wisconsin are in condition to make good yields.

JURY PROMISES TO GIVE TATES LONG TERM

Marion, Ill. — (AP) — Robert Tate and his wife Ruby will be sent to the penitentiary as the result of a compromise verdict Sunday by the jury which found them guilty of the death of Joseph Herrington, her first husband. The sentences, 30 years for Tate and 20 years for Mrs. Tate, have not been passed but Judge Hartwell announced they will be pronounced here some time this week. The jury was out 41 hours.

Defense counsel's only comment was that the verdict "might have been worse."

CORNS Lift Off—No Pain!

"Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little 'Freezone' on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of 'Freezone' for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calms, without soreness or irritation."

NEW INDIAN CHIEF TO BE INSTALLED OCT. 10

It was decided at the meeting of the national council of Oneida Indians Sunday at Oneida to hold the installation ceremony for the Oneida chief on Oct. 10. A committee composed of Henry Smith, Loomis King, Mark Powlas and Mrs. O. J. Kellogg, was appointed to make arrangements for the event.

There was to be another council meeting at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Episcopal parish hall at Oneida, at which time clan matters were to be settled and candidates for the election of chief were to be determined. Mrs. Kellogg was to give a report on the last conference of the Six Nations which was held Sept. 12 at Anondaga, N. Y.

"Every time I look at Caroline's rosy cheeks," says "Mrs. C. Boeke," "my heart goes out in gratitude to Tanlac. When she was eight years old she was so run down I was worried. She wouldn't eat. Her skin was yellow. She was under weight—so weak we feared she would get down in bed."

"But after taking Tanlac a few weeks, Caroline developed a real appetite and began to look fine. She has gained weight and enjoys the best of health. To me there is no medicine like Tanlac!"

CUCUMBERS ARE LEADING AS CROP

Acreage Begins to Exceed That of Sugar Beets, Survey by Nyhus Indicates

Cucumber growing has become a larger industry in this section almost than that of raising sugar beets and other produce, according to reports issued at Madison by Paul O. Nyhus, federal-state crop statistician. The industry is expanding rapidly here and in other parts of Wisconsin, he reports. Most of the crop is bought by pickling stations.

The growth is attested by hundreds of receiving stations scattered over the lighter soil areas. The acreage in Wisconsin has trebled in the past three years, now outranking sugar beets, cabbage, flax seed and beans. Mr. Nyhus says. Checks for cucumbers have come to be an important source of revenue to central Wisconsin growers, particularly during August when income from other sources is low.

The Wisconsin yield this season has been the best in years—75 bushels an acre being indicated. The production of 1,657,000 bushels is almost four times last year's crop and three times any previous harvest. Some salting stations have found it difficult to handle the entire crop.

The FLAPPER WIFE
by Beatrice Burton © 1925 NEA SERVICE, INC.

On her way home Gloria stopped in at a store on College-ave. and bought herself a house-dress. It was a soft, pretty thing with frills around the neck and sleeves.

She had a sudden vision of herself in it when Dick should come home that night. He would think that she had gone . . . and there she would be, with dinner ready, the table set, the house clean! Wouldn't he get the surprise of his life, though?

Unless he had a heart of granite, that certainly ought to melt him.

And let's see, what would she have for dinner? Dick liked lamb chops and fresh peas. She'd have them, she guessed. . . . No, even Mother Gregory had said that it was quite a job to shell peas.

Gloria bought canned ones and a can of beefs. And she saw some potato salad in a delicatessen she passed. So she bought that, too. It would save her going to the bother of cooking potatoes.

Then there was the pie her mother had given her. Why, she wouldn't have anything to cook but the meat! Anybody could warm up canned vegetables.

"How long do you fry lamb chops?" Gloria asked the butcher as he wrapped them up for her.

"Bout fifteen minutes, lady," he said. "Depends on how you like 'em, rare or well done."

How did Dick like his meat cooked? . . . Gloria didn't know. Well, she guessed she'd take a chance and fry them slowly for twenty minutes.

At six o'clock that night she put them on the stove. The peas and beefs were in her kettles. The potato salad was heaped high in a bowl on the dining-room table.

Gloria's heart swelled with honest pride as she looked around the house. It was in what she called perfect order. There was a roll of dust, like a gray mouse, here and there in a shadowy corner . . . but no one would notice that she was sure.

She went upstairs to her room to put a little powder on her nose. She decided that she needed some more gloss on her fingernails.

Suddenly Gloria sniffed the air. . . . What was the queer smell?

The meat! The chops were burning!

She flew down to the kitchen. It was filled with smoke. The sputtering fat in the pan had caught on fire. It was blazing.

"Here's where the house goes up in smoke!" Gloria thought with terror. She lifted the red-hot pan from the stove in her bare hands.

Then she ran out doors with it, and threw it down on the grass. It hissed fiercely as she turned a spray of water from the garden hose on it. Gloria was so excited that she did not hear Dick drive into the yard. It was only when she turned to go back in the house that she saw him watching her from the driveway.

"What have you been doing . . . having a bonfire?" he asked.

Gloria burst into tears. She ran over to the car to show Dick how she had burned her hands.

"No," she sobbed. "I just burned up all the chops . . . and I'm all blistered, too! . . . Oh-oh, I mean to have such a good dinner, too."

"I didn't expect to find you here at all," Dick said calmly. "You said you were going to leave me, last night, you know."

Gloria hung her head. "I know I did," she said in a tone so low that Dick almost failed to hear her words. "but I changed my mind."

Dick studied her for a moment with half-lowered lids. Gloria thought she even detected a gleam of amusement in his eyes.

"Well, never mind about that," he said. Run upstairs and get your hat, and I'll take you downtown for dinner. I'll wait here for you. Hurry."

Gloria put the fire out under the vegetables on the stove, and took the potato salad away.

She made a paste of baking soda and water to smear on her burns.

In the old days Dick would have done it for her, without doubt. He would have been filled with distress and pity . . . and he would probably have kissed the blistered hands. Now he didn't seem to care. He was utterly indifferent to her. And

VETERAN OF FOUR YEARS STARTS ON GREENS MONDAY

Frosh Schedule Game With St. John's M. A.; Varsity Works Hard for Oshkosh

James N. "Swede" Olsson of Waukegan, star lineman of Lawrence college football team for the last four years, returned to his alma mater Monday as coach of the 1925 freshman grid squad. The old blue vet went over the greens with Basing, Packer halfback, who was "working them until a coach was appointed and he probably will take full charge by Wednesday. Swede played guard and center during his college career, playing nice games at each post. He started in at guard while Tiger Bill Smith, now coach at Kaukauna high school, was at center, and was the only man fit to fill Bill's place when he graduated. Swede has played on Blue team under three different mentors, starting under H. D. "Mac" McChesney, and finishing with Howard "Cub" Bucky, and with his experience and the nice material starting in at the Blue school this year, Swede should have one of the best freshman squads ever turned out at the school.

TO PLAY ST. JOHNS

The Greens have scheduled a game with St. John's Military academy, an old rival, for Saturday and Coaches Olsson and Basing worked their curages hard Monday afternoon ending with a nice scrimmage against the varsity, which is tuning up for Oshkosh normal. Both teams looked good, but went ragged at times. Catlin tried a large number of men with the varsity, which accounted for some of the poor work.

BACKFIELD WORKS WELL

Jack Zussman, regular quarterback, was out for the afternoon, and Capt. Eddie Kotal, called the numbers in his peppy style for a while, giving way after a time to Bloomer in Appleton, a 1925 frosh. Bloomer ran the team well for a beginner, but got his signals mixed now and then. The change of lineup made a number of changes along the line. Briesa, who had been working at end, came back to his backfield job and looked better than ever there. The rest of the backfield at the start of the work consisted of Heidemann and Nason, both of whom looked good. Nason should have a big day this fall. Neither Nason or Winder, backfield candidates, were cut, but Hunters, a new man, looked good at half and hit the line well. He was a frosh last year, but was not out for football. He was a good wrestler on the Blue squad, however.

LINE WORKS HARD

Stark, a guard played at end with Briesa in the backfield and Ashman also had a change at wing job. At the other end of the line Les Beyer, reserve of last year, looked good. Hipke, a 1924 reg, looked nice at center and the starting line crew before many substitutions were made looked well. Counsell, Premo and Doelcher, vets, and Weinkauff, a green man held down the posts. Steensland also look good.

FRAGILE GU

The Frosh made the varsity work most of the way but were ragged on some nice passes which went over well. Beyer of Appleton at center, looked good, with Dillette, Shawano, quarterback, and Barseld ex-Jefferson, high captain, at fullback, playing real football and acting like real varsity stuff. Both the latter boys plunged and hit the varsity line well. Dillet ran the Greens in great shape.

Michigan will no doubt build its offensive around Benny Friedman, sensational passer, this season. Friedman broke into the calcium glare last fall through his ability to toss 'em. He's being selected for the quarterback job.

COBB OUT AFTER 100-RUN RECORD

Detroit—Manager Ty Cobb of the Tigers hopes to chalk up another 100 runs this season to his already long string.

Latest averages give the Georgian 92 counters and if he scores at least a run to each fracas for the remainder of the chase he'll be able to turn the feat. That would be doing well, too. For Cobb has been out of the game considerably this season.

In his 19 completed campaigns, Cobb has scored 100 runs or over on 19 occasions, four of them in a row. His high mark is 147 compiled in 146 hits in 1911. In several other years, he's come within one of two runs of reaching the century figure also.

ONLY TWO FIGHTS FOR PLACES LEFT IN MAJOR LOOPS

Browns-Tigers Battle for 3rd in A. L. and Boston-Cards in 5th Place Scrap

New York—(AP)—Barring a fight between the Browns and Tigers for third place in the American loop and a Brooklyn-Boston skirmish for fifth in the National loop, the major league baseball standings Tuesday appeared fixed for the year with only two teams in the same positions they held at the close of last year's races.

Washington and Cleveland, first and sixth in the American, respectively, have been the only clubs to parallel their pace of a season ago. Every team in the National league will finish a new berth, unless the Phillies put on a closing rush accompanied by a further decline of the Cubs. This would provide opportunity for Fletcher's entry to vault from the cellar to seventh place, where they were perched last October.

The champion Pirates closed in 1924 in third place and New York, now second, was on top. Only three games were played Monday. The Tigers divided a twin bill with the Yanks, taking the first at 6-2 and dropping the second, 7-6. Babe Ruth bagged a brace of homers one in each contest, to run his season's total to 24.

Twenty hits gave the Giants a 9-7 victory over the Robins while the St. Louis Cardinals closed their home season by scalping the Braves, 4 to 1.

32 QUALIFIERS START PLAY IN WOMENS MEET

St. Louis Mo.—(AP)—Beginning eliminating play in Tuesday's matches of the 28th Women's National Golf championship held defeat for sixteen of the thirty two who qualified on the difficult links at St. Louis country club Monday. Ninety of the nation's best had entered the annual contest. One who qualified was Mrs. Caleb Fox, Philadelphia, a grandmother and mother, was a sixteen year old girl, Virginia VanWise, Chicago.

Mrs. Alex Stirling Fraser Ottawa, Canada, was the medalist with a score of 37-40-77. Miss Glenna Collet, Providence, R. I., took a 78. These were the only two players to break 80 on the 6,408 yard links.

Miss Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Philadelphia, a defending champion and Edith Cummings, Chicago, a former title holder, tied at 80 to break women's par of 40-41-81.

Mary K. Browne, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Audrey F. Wallace, St. Louis, tied for fifth place at 82. Louise Fordyce, Youngstown, Ohio, had 84 for seventh place. Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., and Mrs. H. Higbie, Detroit, shared the next best score, which was 85.

Columbus—Anna Bradford's Girl came close to a world mark in winning the Ohio State Journal $1,500 stake for 2-05 pacers feature of the Grand Circuit card of the day.

Purple Mentor Expects Battle From S. Dakota

Evanson, Ill.—Faced with the necessity of whipping some semblance of a team into shape for the season's opener with South Dakota here Saturday, October 3, Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite has begun a week's drill of his Purple hopefuls.

Despite a large hospital list which has deprived the Purple mentor of the services of a number of his regulars it is expected that barring added injuries during the coming week the men now out will be ready for action Saturday.

Ralph "Moon" Baker seems to be coming around into shape although he has not donned a uniform for two weeks. His twisted ankle is still sore but he may be able to get into the game with the visiting Coyotes. He will practice carefully and avoid scrimmage all week.

Coach Thistlethwaite, however, will not use his ace against South Dakota unless he is certain that the ankle has been restored to its full strength. Thistlethwaite is taking no chances on losing Baker for the Chicago

MANAGER BUCKY HARRIS GETS STEPPED ON

This exclusive photo shows "Bucky" Harris, brilliant second baseman and manager of the Washington Senators, receiving the injury that may keep him out of the World Series. It happened in a game with Cleveland when Harris tried to slide home past Glenn Myatt, Cleveland catcher. The picture shows how Myatt's spikes came down on Harris' hand, painfully lacerating it. Hoddap, Cleveland third baseman, is shown backing up the play.

Squad Which Meets Blues Reported To Be Weakened

Oshkosh—Coach Howard J. Hancock of Oshkosh Normal school has not yet found a football combination which will be an effective scoring machine against other normal school and college teams which he will meet on this year's schedule. That fact was amply demonstrated on Saturday, when Coach Hancock staged a practice game at Menominee Park in Oshkosh, between his freshmen and his varsity regulars.

In an hour of the hardest playing of which they were capable, the regulars were unable to cross the freshman goal line, and the game ended with a 0-0 score. It was conceded that the freshmen had decidedly the edge on the regulars.

SHAKE-UP DUE

Undoubtedly Coach Hancock will give the entire team a shake-up again this week in an attempt to find a combination which will work. The result of Saturday's game gave the coach little encouragement.

NO DRIVING POWER

On several occasions, the freshmen barely missed scoring on the varsity. On one occasion Wiesbrod, playing halfback for the freshmen, booted over a pretty drop kick which went wide only by a matter of inches and would have won the game had it been inside the goal posts. Another drop kick a little later barely missed. Several times in the second half the freshmen carried the ball deep into varsity territory and only a fumble or an intercepted pass prevented a touchdown.

At times during the game the regulars made consistent gains, but they appeared to lack the punch and driving power necessary to score. On the other hand, the freshmen often made great holes in the varsity line through which the backs made long gains. The fast and light freshmen backs circled the regulars' ends a number of times for good gains.

VARITY LINE WEAK

Coach Hancock has tried many different combinations this fall, shifting backs to the line and linemen to the backfield, but it is evident that the right combination has not yet been found. On Saturday the varsity line seemed unable to hold together to stop the light freshmen backs from slipping through for substantial gains.

The varsity backfield appeared slow and lacked driving power. Even on defense, the light freshmen line stopped the regulars in their tracks.

BONINI, BAROFSKY AGAIN INELIGIBLE

Madison—(AP)—Clarence Barofsky, Marinette, and Bob Bonini, Appleton, quarterback and center on the Wisconsin football squad are ineligible for competition this fall, Coach George Little said Tuesday. Both failed to make passing grades in examinations in conditional subjects. Barofsky will be the most serious loss, his work in practice having indicated that he would be a member of the varsity backfield.

MUNDHENKE, LACKE, COOPER WIN AT NET

Three more matches in the singles tennis meet to determine the city championship for 1925 were concluded during the last few days, and although a number of first round matches still remain to be played, winners who find themselves paired for the second round, probably will start further play. Last week winners were Ralph Landis and A. D. Power. In the last few days, Herb Mundhenke beat Howard Menzner, 6-3, 6-3, Clem Lacke, whipped Ted Xistris, 6-2, 6-4, and Clifton Cooper trounced Williams, 6-3, 6-4.

Second round pairings ready for play to date bring Cooper vs Lacke, and Landis vs Mundhenke in two of the most evenly matched battles of the meet. Power's opponent still has to be determined by a first round match.

CARROLL-MILTON GAME GIVES LINE ON BELOIT

Waukesha—Carroll college meets Milton at Milton Friday afternoon in a game which should give followers of the state colleges a fair estimate regarding the strength of Carroll and Beloit.

Beloit defeated Milton, 27 to 6, at Milton last week. The score was disappointing to Beloit students and alumni, as Coach Mills was expected to wallop the team from Milton soundly, the Adventists never having had a team which figured in the title fight.

The result of the Carroll-Milton battle should consequently give some basis for comparing Carroll and Beloit. Last Saturday Carroll defeated Great Lakes, 72 to 0, in a game which provided Coach Norris Armstrong with an opportunity to use all his reserves.

The sailors offered practically no opposition to the Carroll huskies who hammered their line continually for huge gains.

DEMPSEY, WILLS MAY SIGN FOR BIG FIGHT

South Bend, Ind.—(AP)—Actual signing of articles for a fight between Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, and Harry Wills, negro challenger, was scheduled for Tuesday at Benton Harbor, Michigan.

Andrew M. Weinberg, Floyd Fitzsimmons and other members of the Northern Indiana syndicate, financing such a fight, were convinced that they had landed the match, and believed that the assent of Bob Roy Paddy, Dempsey's manager, and Paddy Mullins, Wills' manager, to terms which were offered but not made public would be transformed into signatures on the dotted line before sunset. Participants in Monday's lengthy conference were unanimous in their silence concerning details of the match.

Fred Vincent of Kithbourn, who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. W. A. Vincent at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Gillespie, returned home Monday.

SHOOTERS HANG UP GOOD MARKS IN TRIAL WORK

Several Places for New Grounds Inspected by Local Club After Saturday Shoot

In spite of several "serious" handicaps members of the Appleton Handicap and Shooting club turned in a number of marks in their practice shoot held Saturday afternoon at the club grounds on the Waverly rd. After the shoot the members visited several places with the object of locating on other grounds next spring. The lease on the present grounds expires soon and several better places are in prospect for next year. Places in both Appleton and Neenah were visited and many looked good to the shooters. After further investigation a meeting will be held and reports will be made.

ALIBIS DON'T COUNT

Among the alibis offered by the various shooters, most of whom managed to mark up fairly good records somehow or other, were that of S. H. Cline, shooting with a new gun; Max Elias with a strange weapon, W. D. Legge using a 20-gauge gun. Everett Wright had a friction ring on the wrong end of his gun and Karl Stansbury worked without his "shooting" glasses. The following records were made, shooting from the 16 yards mark:

	25	*15
S. H. Cline	25	15
C. W. Stribley	150	140
Everett Wright	150	120
Karl Stansbury	125	110
W. D. Legge	100	85
Max Elias	50	33
C. W. Stribley	25	*19
Karl Stansbury	25	*19
S. H. Cline	25	*15

* 23 yards.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

Oshkosh Normal evidently is trying to whip Lawrence Saturday by making the Blue squad overconfident. Every dispatch sent out from the Sawdust city, most of which are handled by Coach Hancock, gives the Oshkosh ranks as completely demoralized and lucky to hold the frosh from scoring. That may all be, but we hardly think the teachers are in as bad condition as they like to tell about. They would like nothing better than to have their "beast" team spring a surprise and take Oshkosh into camp again. They may be weak for Oshkosh Normal, which has turned out some nice grid teams, but all teams (such as Notre Dame on Saturday) are weak at the start of the season and no team ever is as weak as Oshkosh claims to be this year. Be careful of Oshkosh, Lawrence.

Leo Harmon, Badger fullback of 1924, is ready for work again and should make good in two more years of varsity competition. His boot will be quite a help to the Badgers. Leo, inquired about his eligibility at Wisconsin after playing with a small Dakota college and was told everything was all right. At that time the Big Ten had a list of colleges whose men were not eligible for more than a year at varsity grid competition if they transferred and Leo's college was not on the list. Since then, however, a new conference ruling changed this to include all colleges. Leo, a square shooter, desired to make sure of his standing before he got in and had to get out again, having a Badger grid team by the sudden change. The conference did the only fair thing for the boy and declared him eligible.

Our hat is off to Coach Bill Smith and his Kaukauna Tigers, playing nice football against a group of vets led by Scoring at fullback, the Smithmen beat their Shawano opponents all the way, showing plenty of the old Lawrence star's fight. If they can whip Shawano at Shawano, they should whip Two Rivers, another school out of their class, and make West Green Bay and Appleton of the Valley conference step. Most boys are destined to have a real fight on their hands, but should pull through by a slight margin.

Kaukauna's championship Legion squad nearly finished in tie for a change Sunday. Reports say that they were outplayed and were lucky to score. The break came in the final 30 seconds on a blocked punt and Electric City fans, with visions of a state title slipping away in the open-ings of the season, breathe easier. Manager Nate Abrams, former Bad Packer, starred at half for the losers.

The Appleton hall club of the Eastern Wisconsin loop is another athletic squad which deserves a little praise in its first year of baseball, pitted against vets of years' experience the locals came through for third place and at times were on top. They were in the run for the hunting all the way until the last two games, but the blue strain was too much for their youth and they broke each time just in the wrong place. None of the boys ever played a game of real league ball before this year, except Boots Lamers, and most of them are between 20-25 years of age. They fought against old heads like Red Sanders, Peebles, Steen, Wamganen, Noel and others and scored 10 games out of 19 games. With

Peerless Joe Judge Gets First Call Among Initial Sackers In Worlds Series

Senator 1st Sacker Has No Weakness in Field and Is Hefty Slugger, Evans Says

BY BILLY EVANS

Both Washington and Pittsburgh are well fortified at first base. Each has a capable understudy for the regular. As a matter of fact Pittsburgh, to a certain extent, has the shift system with Grantham and McInnis.

I regard Joe Judge of Washington as one of the greatest first basemen of the game. He bats and throws left-handed.

Judge is rather short of stature as first basemen go, nearly four inches shy of six feet. Despite this, he is a brilliant fielder. He reminds one of Hale Chase in his style of play. It would be difficult to pay him a greater compliment.

Judge hasn't a single weakness in the field. At the bat he just dotes on right-handed pitching. While southpaws trouble him, as they do most left-handers, he is far from weak against port-side hurling.

Judge is built along sturdy lines and carries a punch at the plate. That short right field at Pittsburgh should be made to order for him. He is fast, also a good base-runner. Joe Harris, his understudy, bats and throws right-handed. Joe lacks the grace of Judge, in the field but he gets it. At the bat he's a whale, making a real punch in his big black club. On the bases Joe

A. L. A. KEGLERS GET GOOD START

Registrations for Men and Women's Leagues, Starting Monday, Open Until Friday

With five keggers shooting over the coveted 200 mark in less than two week's time, bowling for the 1925-26 season at the Lutheran Aid Alleys got off to a good start since the alleys were opened. Monday the regular league season for the year will start for both men and women and both sexes will hold meetings Friday evening to arrange teams. Registration for the loop now is taking place and any kegler, man or woman, who is interested still has until Friday to sign up. At that time registration will be closed for the season.

SAUER HIGH MAN

Tim Sauer, with a real mark for so early in the year, leads the new 200 club. Tim knocked over 253 pins for the leadership recently. Other members of the group are E. Joecks with 214, John Behnke, Jr., with 212, "Hap" Waltman with 233, and Rev. Hegnicke with 201. Many new members probably will be added this week the way the pins are beginning to fall.

A little better support next year the youngsters should cop the loop banner. Secretary C. L. Prefontaine recently complimented them by calling them the cleanest bunch of good sports in the loop.

SEASON TICKETS SELL AT $3.50; SAVE $1.75

Season tickets for the four big grid games of the 1925 Lawrence college season which went on sale Monday will sell for $3.50, a saving of $1.75 for the year, according to Fred Trisac, athletic manager. The price for the year instead of the saving, was given as $1.75 in Monday evening's Post-Crescent. Individual tickets for each game will total $5.25 this year, thus giving a season ticket holder a $1.75 advantage.

Grantham is a made-over first baseman. Prior to coming to Pittsburgh he played second for the Chicago Cubs. He is inclined to be erratic at that position but he was shifted to first by Pittsburgh and has made good at the initial sack.

Grantham is a left-handed batter. In reserve, Pittsburgh has "Stuffy" McInnis, for years an American League star, should Manager McKechnie want to use a right-handed hitter against southpaw pitching.

In fielding both are all that could be desired. McInnis, despite his many years of service, is still mighty clever around first base.

Because of the superlative ability of Joe Judge in all departments, I would award Washington the shade at first base.

EXTEND SCOUT
TRAINING PLAN TO WHOLE VALLEY

Keicher Is Working Toward
That End in Bringing Experi Workers Here

Boy scout leadership training through a prescribed course is a step nearer for Valley council, Boy Scouts of America, through efforts of Paul O. Keicher, scout executive. He visited Green Bay Monday to confer with Joseph F. Martin concerning a joint course and also in communication with the Oaklath executive for the same purpose.

Application blanks of the boys' life bureau of the Knights of Columbus have been received here and as soon as they are properly signed Appleton will be listed for the training course. This organization supplies boy scout experts free of charge to local councils. The plan is to have Brother Barnabas, F. S. C., one of the outstanding leaders of boy's work, come from the bureau, and to engage several experts from the Chicago re-

GOES TO WORKHOUSE
FOR STRIKING FATHER

Fifteen days in the workhouse was the penalty meted out to Roland Koletzke, 530 W. Atlantic-st., Saturday morning in municipal court, when the young man entered a plea of guilty to the charge of assaulting his father, Werner Koletzke. Young Koletzke is said to be incorrigible. He struck his father Thursday after enraging him in a heated argument.

Regional office of the Boy Scouts of America.

Mr. Keicher is trying to schedule the courses simultaneously throughout the Fox river valley instead of confining them to Valley council only, because the best men in the scout organization can be secured if more than one city will use them. The expense also can be apportioned to several cities instead of just one.

All men who are scoutmasters or workers in the boy scout movement or interested in its success will be invited to take the courses. It is believed that the troops will make better progress after an institute of this kind is held and also that more men will interest themselves in the work once they know its requirements and possibilities.

Chamber of Commerce Will Do Its Part at Hearing in Chicago This Week

Roy G. Wort, traffic manager of Appleton Chamber of Commerce, will be a member of a Wisconsin delegation that will spend Friday and Saturday in Chicago testifying before the interstate commerce commission against any undue increases in freight rate for shipments to and from this state.

These two days were set aside for Wisconsin testimony in the hearing on proposed increases in eastern class freight rates to the western trunk line and central freight territory. The railroads want 11 per cent more in order to make their earnings five and three fourths per cent as allowed by the government.

Traffic men and shippers will go to the hearing armed with facts and figures to show what a hardship higher freight rates would be. They will be assisted in giving expert testimony by the Wisconsin railroad commission, which plans to attend the hearing.

CONTEST GIVES
CITY PUBLICITY

Winner of Better Cities Race
Will Be Nationally Advertised as Fine Place to Live

Appleton, as one of the five cities of Wisconsin remaining in the better cities contest, will receive much favorable publicity at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work to be held at Stevens Point next month. Delegates from here have been invited to be present. The winner of the better cities contest will be announced at the Stevens Point meeting. The fact that Appleton is one of the five highest ranking cities in the state entitles it to representation at the annual meeting. Although the financial return to the city receiving first place in the better cities contest is $1,000, this is but a small item as compared with the favorable nationwide publicity the winning city will receive. The winner will be advertised as the best city in Wisconsin to live in.

Wide publicity will also be given throughout the state to the winning community. A Wisconsin magazine is preparing a special edition cover

Firestone Cooperation Aids
Bus Service Development

FOLLOWING the consolidation of this Company's extensive motor bus system in southeastern Pennsylvania, we felt the most important step was the solution of the tire problem. It seemed good judgment to place our whole tire problem in the hands of some Company equipped by experience to work out for us practical methods for handling what we consider to be one of the most important and difficult phases of successful bus operation.

After complete consideration we decided to utilize Firestone tires and service for our entire system. As a result a decided improvement in regularity of service has occurred.

The genuine satisfaction we have in the way our tire problem is working out under your direction, makes it a pleasure to give your Company this credit.
